LONDON, July 7.

The following, is a Copy of the King of Spain's Act of Accession to the preliminary Articles of Peace, as signed by his Minister at Aix-la-Chapelle on the 28th ult.

" WE, Don James Mazones de Lima y Soto Mayor, Gentleman of the Bedchamber of his Catholick Majesty, Field-Marshal of his Armies, and his Minister-Plenipotentiary to the Conferences of Aix-la-Chapelle, Declare, that altho' the different Motives which " have hitherto hinder'd his Catholick Majesty's Accession to the " Preliminary Articles signed in this City of Aix the 30th of last " April, by the Plenipotentiaries of his Most Christian Majesty, his " Britannick Majesty, and the States General of the United Provinces, still subsist; his Catholick Majesty, willing to give an evident Proof of his sincere Desire to see the General Tranquility " restored, has invested Us with full Power to accede, in his Majesty's Name, without the least Reserve or Exception, to the " whole Tenour and Contents of the Preliminary Articles; And in " the same Manner accede we likewise to the Declaration of the " 21st of May, signed by the forementioned Ministers, to rectify the " Errors of Dates and repair the Omissions in the 1st Article of the " Preliminaries, and to afford more Extension to the 2d of the said " Articles; as also to the Declaration of the 31st of May, signed " by the said Ministers, relating further to the second Article of the " Preliminaries; all which Declarations his Catholick Majesty accepts in every Particular.

" We moreover declare, that a Cessation of all manner of Hostilities will take Place by Land, between the Armies of his Catholick Majesty and those of the Powers with whom he is at War, " in the Term of three Weeks, from the Date of the present Accession, and by Sea on the Footing of the 16th Article. We " promise within a Month to produce his Majesty's Ratification in " due Form of the present Declaration, signed with our own Hand, " and to which we have affixed the Seal of our Arms.

" Done at Aix-la-Chapelle the 28th of June, 1748.

Sign'd,

D. J. M. DE LIMA Y SOTO-MAYOR.

Aix-la-Chapelle, July 17. The following Declaration was signed the 8th instant by the Plenipotentiaries of their Britannick and Most Christian Majesties, and of the States General.

' We the underwritten Ministers Plenipotentiary of his Most ' Christian Majesty, his Britannick Majesty, and the Lords the States ' General of the United Provinces, at the Conferences of Aix-la-' Chapelle, declare, that since the 30th of April last, the Day on ' which the Preliminaries were signed by us in this City of Aix-la-' Chapelle, no Orders have been sent to the East or West-Indies ' for proceeding to the Demolition or Destruction of any of the ' Conquests made on either Side in the said East and West Indies, ' or for doing any thing contrary to the Spirit and Tenour of the 2d ' Article of the Preliminaries, and the Declarations of the 21st and ' 31st of last May; in consequence of which we have agreed, that ' all the Conquests made before the said 30th of April, or which ' may have been made since, shall be restored; that is to say, those ' in the West-Indies in the State they were in six Weeks after the ' 30th of April, and those made, or which might be made in the ' East-Indies, in the State they shall be in on the 30th of October, ' the Day of Expiration of the six Months, reckoning from the ' Date of the Signature of the said Preliminaries.

' Moreover, as by the 16th Article of the Preliminaries Reference is made to the 3d Article of the Convention for the Suspension of Arms agreed to the 19th of August, 1712, between their ' Most Christian and Britannick Majesties, and as notwithstanding ' Hostilities may not perhaps have ceased at the Expiration of the ' six Weeks from the Day of the Signature of the Preliminaries, as ' well in the Mediterranean as the Northern Ocean to Cape St. Vincent, and from that Cape to the Line; we have agreed, that Commissaries sufficiently authorized shall be named by all the Parties ' within the Space of two Months, who shall assemble at St. Malo, ' or in such other Place as his Most Christian Majesty, his Britannick Majesty, and the Lords the States General of the United ' Provinces, shall agree, to order the reciprocal Restitution, or ' Indemnity for Prizes taken, as well in the Mediterranean as the ' Northern Ocean, as far as Cape St. Vincent, and from that Cape ' to the Line, after the Term of six Weeks, reckoning from the ' Signature of the Preliminaries.

' In Witness whereof, We, the underwritten Ministers of his ' Most Christian Majesty, his Britannick Majesty, and the Lords the ' States General of the United Provinces, at the said Conferences ' of Aix-la-Chapelle, have sign'd the present Declaration, to which ' we have affixed the Seals of our Arms, and of which we promise ' to procure the Ratifications in due Form within the Space of a ' Month. Extract of a Letter from Aix-la-Chapelle, July 19.

' The Marquis de Soto-Mayor was this Afternoon with Count de ' St. Severin, and those two Ministers had a Conference betwixt ' themselves of two Hours, after which they repaired to the Town ' House, where the other Plenipotentiaries were assembled, and ' where four material Points were regulated. One of these Points ' was in what Manner the Armies should retire out of the Low-' Countries; and this is agreed to be upon the same Footing as the ' Imperial Troops shall retire out of the Territories of the Genoese, ' and the Dutchies of Modena, Parma, Placentia and Guastalla: ' So that the Evacuation of the Austrian Netherlands must depend ' upon the Advice of what has been done in Italy.'

BOSTON, September 12.

We find by the New York Papers of Monday last, that three Ships are arrived there from London, one of which has brought Prints to the 27th of July: The most remarkable Articles of News we can find in 'em are, That 'twas expected the definitive Treaty of Peace would be concluded and ready to sign by the 15th or 20th of August.—That a French Fleet lay ready at Brest to sail for Cape Breton to take Possession of that Island.—That twenty new Men of War built in Sweden for the French, were arrived in their Ports.—That Trade with Spain was to be opened the beginning of August, his Catholick Majesty having sent over Passports for that Purpose.—That as many of his Majesty's Ships were paid off, and the Men discharged, several of 'em have entered into the French King's Service at Plymouth, he having an Agent there, who engages all that have a Mind to enter, at very high Wages.—That Sir Peter Warren and Admiral Hawke were arrived at Spithead.—That the Correspondence between England and France is as open and free, as 'twas before the War.—That several Men of War were soon to sail to Cape-Breton, to carry the English Forces out of that Island.—And, that by the Way of Turky, Advice was brought, that the English had made themselves Masters of Pondicherry, and entirely plunder'd and ruin'd it, in the same Manner as M. de la Bourdonay dealt by Madrass.

Mr. Timothy,

HAD not a certain Friend of Mr. Remington's officiously moved out of his Sphere to meddle in other People's Affairs, and had not the Threatning, &c. publish'd with Mr. Remington's Name at it, been so exactly of a Piece with that denounced before Publication, so that I could be at no Loss to know the Author and Inventor of both, our Correspondence in this Form had been at an End 'ere my last: But as that Friend of Mr. Remington's was pleased to attack me thro' you in that secret and hidden Manner, which not in Imagination only but in Reality he did, I think myself sufficiently justified in taking Notice of him in the Manner I have done, having therein used no other Terms than such as were necessary to characterize him. However Mr. Remington may wilfully mistake those for Scurrility.——Such Persons, Mr. Timothy, whoever they are, who refuse the Light, who snarl and skulk in the Dark, and who (according to that new Phrase) skulk in Safety in Disguise, and that with one who never wilfully offended them, I take to be Rogues in the strictest Sense; and as such, act not like Gentlemen, it behoves and becomes both my Tongue and Pen to tell them so, neither using worse Language nor more Gall than the Nature of the Case requires and Justice to myself makes necessary.—I have not nor shall fall foul of any of Mr. Remington's Friends or others, such only excepted who in Truth have first fall'n foul of me.

I observe how prettily Mr. Remington plays himself with my Trap: But you may tell him, Mr. Timothy, that the Trap that catches what is intended to be caught by it, is a very good Trap, let the Thing taken be ever so insignificant and unsubstantial, even a meer Glakes (which Word in my Country has a double Signification.) And I have been so successful on the first Experiment, that I could almost join the With for a Patent; but considering that some new or assum'd Authority, may, by some Power or Faculty set up another Trap-maker in Opposition, to the great Detriment of so valuable a Monopoly, I decline the Wish, and leave the Manufacture and Sale of that Commodity to any one that will be at the Charge of the Patent.

You may also let Mr. Remington know, that I readily exculpate him from all Offence by any Thing he has done concerning me.—I take the Offence from whence it comes, knowing how to distinguish the Instrument from the Agent, the Publisher from the Composer; at the same Time would derogate nothing from that Gent.'s Genius not doubting but that it may be equal to any of the printed Performances, nor do I blame Mr. Remington for defending with his utmost Skill what he looks upon to be his Right, any more than I think myself blame-worthy in supporting what I take to be mine——Let it please or displease who it may. My Complaint is against some of Mr. Remington's Friends, who have gone too far out of the Way, both first and last. And as they still keep from Publick View, I shall no longer contend with them in Mask, but leave them to reflect on the Consequences that may attend them and their Affairs, when officiously intermeddled with by others, which to do Hurt, neither is, nor I hope shall be the Practice of

Your humble Servant,

JOHN RAITT.

P.S. Tell Mr. Remington's Friend to avoid Scotticisms in his next, such as 'twixt, Glakes, &c. lest himself should discover what Mr. Remington is at much Pains to conceal.
